MYSTERY WITNESS FOUND IN SPY PLOT

Curbs for Radio Give-Away Programs Are Planned by Government Agency

BY JACK ADAMS
WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—(P)—Like a stern but not too hopeful parent, the Federal Communications Commission shook a warning finger today at the get-rich-quick radio programs popping out all over the dial.

The station-licensing agency said disapprovingly that "an almost infinite number" of these border on "illegal lotteries or gift enterprises."

So the commission announced a set of proposed new regulations aimed at curbing, if not eliminating, many of the programs currently offering fabulous cash, travel and merchandise gifts to lucky listeners.

In essence, the rules say there must be no more such give-aways based in any way "upon lot or chance." Nor can the winners be required to (A) furnish any money or other thing of value (B) possess the sponsored product or (C) be or have been listening—or viewing—the program in question.

The commission didn't say when the new clamp down will become effective. But it said it will listen to interested parties up to September 10.

Privately, commission sources said the agency fears that the prize programs are throwing the national radio picture "out of focus," and leading the industry away from "the broad basic purposes of broadcasting."

These sources said there have been complaints from some top flight comedians and other entertainers that their gags or art are being lost to listeners hoping for complete housing, a house painting job or a free trip to Bermuda for two, all expenses paid.

Still privately, the commission left no doubt that it regards the task of getting the give-away programs off the air as no easy undertaking.

Actually, the springboard for the FCC plunge into the $100,000-a-week nationwide prize pool was a modest venture just across the Potomac River from commission

Changes Made In GOP Bill To Curb Prices

Housing Bill Row In Senate Begins To Grow Hotter

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—(P)—The Senate banking committee approved today two principal changes in the Republican anti-inflation bill passed by the House yesterday.

The committee struck out a House provision calling for a boost in Federal Reserve Bank gold reserves, which Secretary of the Treasury Snyder and Federal Reserve officials said would do nothing to stop inflation.

COMPROMISE PASSED
WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—(P)—The Senate passed and sent to the House today a compromise housing bill aimed at speeding small home building.

The measure contains no low-rent or slum clearance subsidies.

It also raised the reserve requirements of banks which are members of the Federal Reserve system.

The House had approved Reserve increases of 1 and 3 percent respectively on time and demand deposits. The Senate committee raised the figures to 2 and 5 percent. President Truman had asked for ten and four percent.

The committee also approved the reimposition of restrictions on installment buying which the House had voted. It changed the effective date however, from next March 15 to June 30.

A proposal by Senator Capehart (R-Ind) to freeze all prices as of last midnight was lost on a five to five committee vote.

Chairman Tobey (R-NH) told reporters he does not know whether the committee bill has the approval of Senate Republican policy leaders.

Tobey offered a motion in the committee to give Mr. Truman the stand-by price and wage controls and allocation powers which he asked. The proposal was voted down six to four.

Housing Argument

Meeting an hour earlier than usual, the Senate set aside two hours to argue the issue of government-financed housing before a vote promised at noon, Eastern Standard Time.

Up for decision then will be a revised version of the Taft-Elender-Wagner bill. That measure passed the Senate in the regular session but ran into a House log jam.

As a substitute, Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) offered a bill deleting the T-E-W provisions for federal financing of low-rent housing and other clearance projects.

McCarthy wouldn't forecast the result. Senator Sparkman (D-Ala) said most of the 45 Senate

Troops at Dayton Going Back Home

Strike On Communist Pattern Policeman Tells Congress Probe

COLUMBUS, Aug. 6.—(P)—Thomas J. Herbert ordered national guards troops on duty at the Univis Lens Co. plant in Dayton withdrawn late today.

Chester W. Goble, the state's adjutant general, said the troops would be withdrawn between 5:30 P. M. and 6 P. M. today, after the day shift has left the Univis plant.

The governor told newsmen he would work with Mayor Lohrey to arrange a conference tomorrow with the disputing parties.

The only purpose of tomorrow's meeting, he explained, would be to ascertain if another meeting could be arranged to discuss a settlement.

A smoke bomb was hurled today among national guard troops patrolling the strike-troubled Univis Lens Co. plant today.

Ten guardsmen hit the ground as the missile went off some 100 feet from the company grounds and failed to see the occupants of a car from which the bomb was tossed.

Col. George Schiele of the Ohio guard said the bomb was government made and commonly used to throw up smoke and cause confusion. It was wrapped in paper bags and was contained in a corrugated box, the guard commander added.

City police joined guard leaders in hunting occupants of the car which sped away from the plant area after the explosion.

CONGRESSIONAL PROBE
WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—(P)—A Dayton, Ohio, police officer said today he is quite certain that a strike at the Univis Lens Co. plant there followed the "Communist pattern."

Col. James Gillespie Given Recognition

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—(P)—Col. James F. Gillespie, who retired recently as chief of the Air Force Flying Division near Wilmington, O., was presented a national air council award for outstanding achievement in aviation research yesterday.

Only members of the air force and navy air arm are eligible for the awards, which will be made annually in the future.

Rear Admiral Theodore C. Longquest, assistant chief of the Navy Bureau of Aeronautics for Research and Development, also received an award.

Both he and Gillespie were given inscribed silver plaques. Colonel Gillespie was cited for "superior ability and a high degree of professional skill and initiative" in organizing and supervising the first transoceanic "push button" flight recently.

Meanwhile, more than 200 residents of Philo, which is 10 miles south of here, were combing the hilly wooded section about the community. They joined the search when Mayor Roy Robb rang the village fire alarm at 6 A. M.

A posse had searched for the child throughout the night.

Huffman is a laborer at the National Battery Company plant in Zanesville. He and Mrs. Huffman have another child, Billy, nine months old.

Missing Boy Found Stuck in Fence

ZANESVILLE, Aug. 6.—(P)—Three-year-old Jerry Lee Huffman, missing all night, was found at 7 A. M. today, trapped in a wire fence, after his collie dog led searchers to the area.

The child was naked and almost unconscious from exposure. His foot was caught in the fence and a wild grapevine was twisted about his neck.

The boy was found at the edge of a cornfield, a mile and a half from his home near Philo, from which he disappeared between 6 and 7

Meanderings

By Wash Fayette

There was a time when every man in Washington C. H., between the ages of 21 and 60 years of age, was required to work two days each year on the streets to help maintain them—or pay someone to work in his place.

This was required under an ordinance enacted by the village council, August 19, 1842, making it mandatory for each man in this age bracket, to do his part toward maintaining the streets by doing work on them.

How long this ordinance was in effect (I do not know that it was ever repealed) is problematical, but it was along the line of the old poll tax requiring every man from 21 to 60 to work one or two days on the county roads. That was before taxes were levied for road work and repair.

It was not until about 30 years ago that the practice of requiring every man to work on the roads or pay for such work, was discontinued in the county. Apparently the two days work on the streets was required for a half century or more.

In those days gravel was the only material used for street building. Many of the streets were laid out by citizens who did their bit as required by law, to build and maintain the streets.

Sometime ago Frank Garringer, Rock Mills, owned a friendly little white dog, which he called "Snowball," and the little fellow was a favorite with all of the children in the Rock Mills community, as well as all other folks. Months ago when "Snowball" was run over and killed by an automobile, there was much sorrow among the junior inhabitants of the little village.

Recently Frank heard a group of children singing mournfully on the hillside back of his house, and investigating he found a half dozen youngsters had assembled, placed flowers on the grave of "Snowball" and were conducting memorial services.

He invited the youngsters to his premises to obtain more flowers, and when the work was completed, the entire top of "Snowball's" grave was covered with flowers placed there by his little friends who had not forgotten him.

China's Floods Claim 3,500

NANKING, Aug. 6.—(P)—Flood waters of the Yellow River drowned nearly 3,500 persons and left 400,000 homeless in the rich north Honan Province, official reports released here today said.

The water conservation commission said reports from North Honan magistrates described the flood the worst in 100 years. More than 1,000,000 fertile acres were flooded.

(Frequently preliminary reports of this nature are exaggerated as to casualties).

Nine districts north of Chenghsien were reportedly flooded when the dikes of the Tsinho, a tributary of the Yellow River, collapsed. Reports here from magistrates gave 3,489 missing or drowned, 400,000 homeless and 42,499 homes destroyed.

The reports said more than 3,000 drowned when backwaters flooded Paimuchuen, a lake 25 miles northwest of Chenghsien.

Three Fliers Killed

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Aug. 6.—(P)—Three and possibly four Randolph Air Force base fliers were killed instantly near New Braunfels today in an aerial crash of two AT-6 training planes, which plummeted to the earth in a mass of flames.

Former Golf Champ Who Beat Jones Is Found Dead in Jail

HACKENSACK, N. J., Aug. 6.—(P)—Cyril Walker, 57, one of the nation's leading golfers in the 1920's, was found dead today in a cell at police headquarters where he had been given a night's lodging.

Walker, a native of England, won the U.S. Open golf championship in 1924, defeating Bobby Jones by three strokes at Oakland Hills, Detroit.

Police Sgt. Daniels Bebus said Walker applied last night for lodging and was permitted to stay in a cell.

Bebus said he went to awaken Walker this morning and found him sitting in a chair. Death was due to natural causes, the police sergeant said.

Walker, a frail man who weighed about 125 pounds, was an expert long ball hitter but also adept on short shots to the green.

Insanity Plea By Mad Killer

MANSFIELD, Aug. 6.—(P)—Robert Muri Daniels will go on trial Aug. 30 for three killings—a part of a trail of crime which he and a gun-toting companion, now dead, followed across Ohio for two weeks.

Arraigned on first degree murder indictments, Daniels pleaded innocent by reason of insanity before Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch.

The judge later set the trail date.

The 24-year-old former inmate of Mansfield Reformatory was represented in court by Attorney Lydon Beam, appointed by the court to represent him.

Daniels is charged with slaying John Niebel, superintendent of the Mansfield Reformatory Farm; Mrs. Niebel, and their daughter Phyllis, 21.

The slaying occurred three weeks ago in a state-wide tour of terrorism and killing which was ended when police shot to death Daniels' companion, John Coulter West, 22, at Van Wert County roadblock and captured the former inmate of the Mansfield Reformatory.

Watery Grave For 52

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—(P)—Flame-charred, splintered wreckage, found off the African coast in the South Atlantic, was believed today to have come from a giant French flying boat missing since Sunday with 52 persons aboard.

The wreckage, including airplane seats, was found by the U.S. Coast Guard cutter Campbell, whose commander told headquarters here there was "little doubt" it was the remains of the 73-ton, six-engine Air France Lateorere 631.

Big Four Meeting Planned, Reds Hint

Allied Envoys in Kremlin Confab Again, but No Details Given Out

MOSCOW, Saturday, Aug. 7.—(P)—The United States, Britain and France gave their reply to the Soviet Union on the Berlin and other questions in a three-hour interview with Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov last night.

The three western representatives went at once to the American embassy after the meeting.

"We met with Molotov," said U. S. Ambassador Walter Bedell

Smith, "no comment."

All three envoys—Smith, Frank Roberts of Britain and Ambassador Yves Chataigneau of France—were non-committal as they left the Kremlin.

The Kremlin session was about an hour longer than the envoys' Monday night conference with Prime Minister Stalin.

The Kremlin conference started at 5 P. M. (9 A. M. EST).

Stalin was not believed present at this meeting, which the western diplomats had sought with the foreign minister.

(Diplomats in London said they expect a big four communique to be issued this weekend, announcing plans for a new meeting of the foreign ministers' council. The

Crew of 10 Killed In Navy Plane Crash

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 6.—(P)—A navy board of inquiry today studied the charred wreckage of a navy transport plane in which 10 men were killed. Reports that there was a WAVE aboard, making the toll 11, later were found to be false, the navy said.

The plane crashed and burned after a collision with a Streamer training plane 23 miles north of here late yesterday. The two occupants of the trainer parachuted to safety.

One of the victims was identified by relatives at Lt. Comdr. Phil Peters, 29, of Mobile, Ala.

Identification was difficult and the navy said names of the other victims would not be available until later.

New Wage Hike Sought By Bell Phone Workers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—(P)—The Communications Workers of America announced today that it will ask new wage boosts for 87,000 Bell Telephone workers this month.

The independent union, now negotiating new contracts for 130,000 additional union members, said that on August 16 it will re-open seven Bell system contracts signed this spring.

Old Dog Stops Robber

Odd Chain of Events Climaxed by Death Of Bandit by Own Hand After Confession

BERKELEY, Calif., Aug. 6.—(P)—A bank robber lay dead today because an aged and testy bulldog resented invasion of his privacy.

The robber, who told police he was Isaac G. Fox and had served prison time in Tennessee, snatched an FBI agent's gun while being questioned, and killed himself.

It was 3:05 P. M. yesterday when Mrs. Levenne Ames opened the door of a branch of the Bank of America to let out a late customer. Fox pushed his way in.

Drawing a revolver, he covered the 11 bank employees and quickly collected between $7,000 and $8,000 then he drove away.

But Fox did not know the city. A mile away he drove into a dead-end street. He abandoned his car and leaped into a backyard.

There lived Buggs, a 12-year-old toy bulldog. Buggs made an angry run at the intruder. Fox kicked him, and the dog's yelp of pain brought his mistress, Mrs. Frank J. Goldfuss.

Mrs. Goldfuss called her husband and together they pursued Fox in their car. They overtook him two blocks away.

"Why did you kick my dog?"

Mrs. Goldfuss cried.

Fox drew his gun, took the Goldfuss' car and started to drive away.

Mrs. Goldfuss screamed. Motorcycle Policeman Connie Poules roared up.

Fox put the gun to his head. Twice he pulled the trigger and the gun failed to fire. He was disarmed, and Fox was taken to the North Oakland police station.

There Fox made his last snatch—for the FBI gun that killed him.

New Sensations Develop Around Uranium Charge

Senate Inquiry Suspended Because Of Presidential Ban

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—(P)—Rep. MacDowell (D-Penn.) said today a "significant" amount of uranium metal, a "vital component" of the atomic bomb, was sent to Russia in 1945.

In a House speech, MacDowell said these shipments were in addition to those he told the House un-American activities committee yesterday were made during war years.

MacDowell, at the committee's hearings on Communist spying, had said 1,300 pounds went to Russia in 1943.

He said in his House speech that 1,420 pounds also were sent in 1945.

And he repeated to the House what he said at the committee meeting—that the materials were obtained "as a result of pressure of the highest kind."

Shipments Denied

(In New York, the man who headed America's war-time atomic bomb project says he never shipped any uranium to the Soviet Union.

(Ma) Gen. Leslie R. Groves, questioned yesterday about a congressman's statement that 1,300 pounds of uranium compound were shipped to Russia during the war, said:

"I did not ship it. As a retired army officer it would not be proper for me to answer that question fully."

(Groves' statement was made in a radio interview over WOR. Asked whether, if such uranium shipment were made, they were made without his knowledge, he said:

"(That would be a fairly good assumption.)"

Hearings Suspended

Across the capitol, senators who have been looking into Communist activities and alleged spying suspended their public hearings because they said the Truman administration refuses to give them necessary facts.

Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich.) of the Senate investigating subcommittee announced the decision. He made public also a refusal by Attorney General Tom Clark to supply official FBI records on William W. Remington.

Meanwhile, the House un-American activities committee went underground for a secret meeting with a mystery witness in its own similar investigation.

A subcommittee was sent out of town to interview this witness at an undisclosed place. Rep. Mundt (R-S.D.), acting chairman of the full committee, said this man's testimony, together with other testimony already gathered, "will prove the existence of a Communist spy ring which reached high into the government during the war."

Clark's refusal to turn over the FBI records on Remington was in line with an order from President Truman who denounced the congressional hearings yesterday as a "red herring" intended to divert public attention from what he calls the refusal of the Republican-controlled Congress to enact adequate anti-inflation legislation.

Remington, 30-year-old suspended commerce department official, was identified by Elizabeth T. Bentley as one of several government workers she says passed wartime information to her for a Communist espionage ring.

Miss Bentley testified she was a courier, traveling between New York and Washington, for the ring.

Mysterious Witness

Although public hearings are being suspended, Ferguson said the Senate group will continue to dig for facts on Remington and the entire government loyalty program at closed hearings and "by any legal means."

The House subcommittee went to unusual efforts to keep its activities from being known.

A heavy curtain of secrecy, almost akin to wartime censorship, was drawn around movements of the subcommittee. The names and number of members were a deep secret for some reason that nobody would explain.

The subcommittee was supposed to leave last night, arrive at its destination by noon today, start questioning the mystery man this

Bonus Checks Total $261,111 In This County

Total of $93,000,000
Paid Ohio Veterans
Up To Date

Bonus checks totalling $261,111.39 had been sent to 821 Fayette County war veterans up to July 31, according to a recent report from Chester W. Goble, state bonus director.

More than 93 million dollars has already been paid by the state of Ohio to its veterans.

This was announced by Director Chester W. Goble of the World War II Compensation Fund who gave a break-down of the number of claims paid for each county from the latest available figures.

Goble stated that 141,218 claims totalling $46,351,082.28 were paid between April 28th and June 30th as compared with 149,778 claims totalling $47,514,121.03 for the month of July.

"Our goal is to pay all claims as soon as possible," Director Goble said.

If additional information is needed in order to make a proper determination, the application concerned is sent to a special section which handles all claims as rapidly as possible in the order in which they are received, the director explained.

Next of kin claims paid totaled $491,197.39 and the average amount paid per claim was $384 as compared with $324 for living veterans, Goble explained.

Payments to veterans of surrounding counties were as follows: Clinton, $288,153.65 to 939 veterans; Greene, $563,325.70 to 1755 veterans; Highland, $319,504.29 to 1017 veterans; Madison, $248,969.29 to 821 veterans; Pickaway, $293,613.50 to 962 veterans; and Ross, $681,552.45 to 2177 veterans.

Ford Prices Raised Again

DETROIT, Aug. 6—(P)—The Ford Motor Co. Thursday announced price increases averaging five percent on all new Ford cars except one model. They amount to $75 on each car.

At the same time the company reduced the price of its six-cylinder business coupe by $5.

Ford said it was forced to raise prices for the second time in less than two months because of higher material and labor costs and the "necessity for reducing present production volume due to material shortage which cause production interruptions."

When the 1949 Ford models were introduced in mid-June prices were advanced $85 to $125.

Today's Ford price increase is the third since Henry Ford on Jan. 15, 1947, announced a price cut in what he said was an effort to halt inflation.

Following is a revised price list of Ford passenger cars, showing the old price, new price and amount of increase (prices quoted do not include transportation costs, taxes and extra equipment):

30-Oz. Baby Girl Crying—Good Sign

CINCINNATI, Aug. 6—(P)—Dr. Samuel O'Krent said today he was pleased that a 30-ounce baby girl, born Wednesday, was "crying lustily" in her incubator at Good Samaritan Hospital. He said this was a good sign.

The baby was born two months prematurely to Mrs. Jack Chandler. She was the parents' first child.

"The chances of survival for an infant that size are not too good," O'Krent said, "but we are heartened in that she cries very lustily."

Marshall Grange Holds Meeting

Safety Program
Follows Business

The obligation in the third and fourth degree was given to Donald Cannon by Chester Jones, county deputy, at the meeting of Marshall Grange Thursday evening.

In the absence of Worthing Master Roscoe Smith, Nelson Kelley presided over the business meeting.

August 22, at 1 P. M. was set for the annual Marshall Grange picnic at the home of Ancel Creamer. Members were reminded to take covered baskets.

Typical Ohio Farm family petitions were signed during the meeting and most members supported the Lester Stevenson family for the competition that will send the winning family as guests to the Ohio State Fair.

Five dollars was voted to Boy Scout Troop 67, which is preparing for camp.

Following the meeting a safety program was presented which included a paper on farm safety by Henry Hiser and reading of five other articles dealing with dangers in the home and on the farm.

A discussion dealing with weed pests was carried on with each member mentioning a weed and other members offering suggestions for its extermination.

An entertaining word picture was given by Janice Creamer, members were to guess who the description represented as it progressed. It turned out to be the 2nd Ohio President of the United States, General Ulysses S. Grant.

Chester Jones and Janice Roberts entertained the group with a tongue twister.

Hosts at the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Chester Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Vannorsdall, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Owen and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Allen.

NOTHING DEFINITE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6—(P)—A state department official sharply discounted today reports that the western powers and Russia have agreed to announce plans this week end for a big four foreign ministers meeting on Germany and other problems.

The spokesman, Press Officer Michael J. McDermott, said "no arrangements have been made."

Dayton Strike Probe

Krug, told a House labor subcommittee he had no knowledge that the strike was Communist directed or dominated.

But, he said, "many things occurred which would lead me to believe they were done in a pattern which we have been led to believe is followed by the Communist party."

"You are quite certain that this followed the Communist pattern?" asked Rep. Fisher (D-Tex.).

"Quite certain," Krug replied.

Krug told in detail of disorders outside the strike-bound plant, where members of the United Electrical Workers walked out last May.

He said there had been no brutality on the part of police despite provocation on the part of strikers and pickets.

Men and women in the picket line, he said, called the police vile names, kicked them and hurled pennies at them.

At the start, he said, he directed the police not to reply or take any notice of verbal attacks. Last week, he said, when he heard that there would be massed pickets to keep workers from entering the plant, he ordered his men to use force to repel force.

On July 30, he said, he had 165 men outside the plant but they were unable to cope with the situation. He said there were at least 700 pickets and a crowd of 13,000 around the plant. Troops were summoned the next day and took over Monday.

Men and women in the picket line, he said, called the police vile names, kicked them and hurled pennies at them.

At the start, he said, he directed the police not to reply or take any notice of verbal attacks. Last week, he said, when he heard that there would be massed pickets to keep workers from entering the plant, he ordered his men to use force to repel force.

On July 30, he said, he had 165 men outside the plant but they were unable to cope with the situation. He said there were at least 700 pickets and a crowd of 13,000 around the plant. Troops were summoned the next day and took over Monday.

Price Curb Bill

Democrats would back the T-E-W bill.

But Senator Taft (R-Ohio) one of the authors of the T-E-W measure, swung his weight behind the McCarthy proposal.

Taft told reporters that while he wants federal-financed housing, it can wait until the January session. He said he is certain that the House won't pass any housing bill at all if it wraps up that provision.

Chairman Tobey (R-NH) of the Senate banking committee was on the other side. Tobey, calling on his colleagues to repudiate the McCarthy proposal, let fly at a House GOP "triumvirate" that's been blocking the will of the people on housing.

He named speaker Martin (Mass), Republican leader Halleck (Ind) and banking committee chairman Wolcott (Mich.).

"Let's find out who is running the country," Tobey cried out in his speech, "a little oligarchy, or the people of the country."

While the Republicans were falling out over this issue, Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, quietly planted a bomb near the anti-inflation bill.

That measure—which whooped through the House yesterday by a 264 to 97 vote—went before Tobey's banking committee (8:30 A. M. EST) for a quick preview and expected to bring it to the Senate floor later in the day.

Barkley told a reporter administration supporters were ready to offer President Truman's price-wage and rationing controls as amendments in the committee.

There seemed every likelihood that the Republicans in command of the committee would step on the fuse of that bomb quickly.

But Barkley said that isn't all. The Senate, he predicted, will get a chance to vote directly—as the House didn't—on Mr. Truman's proposals. The House had banned any amendments from the House floor, but Senate rules provide for no such "take it or leave it" maneuver.

If the whole Senate gets into a hot fight over the Truman program, that might delay the headlong rush for adjournment indicated if the Senate takes the McCarthy housing bill.

In fact, Wolcott predicted speedy House action that the McCarthy measure would reach the president's hands tonight.

How Serious Is This Washington Spy Talk?

Most of us are wondering just how much there is to this Russian spy talk in Washington, D. C.

If it's as critical as some people think there has been some dangerous blundering going on among our top level officials by reason of their failure to know what is going on and in hiring people for important jobs without a very thorough investigation.

The latest spy story in Washington, revolving about Miss Elizabeth T. Bentley, may or may not be something more than a seven-day wonder. Among news observers on the spot there has been a sharp difference of opinion as to whether it is a shocking revelation or a scandalous bit of back-fence gossip. There could be something as serious or worse than a "Tea-Pot Dome" scandal before investigation ends.

Miss Bentley's story was not new. She told it to the Federal Bureau of Investigation in 1945. There are many indications that the FBI investigated it at the time, but apparently no formal charges or arrests resulted. Did the FBI find the story to be an old-wives'-tale, or were its findings buried? If so, why?

Miss Bentley has named a number of persons still in the federal employ, some in high position, as sources of information. Most of them immediately issued flat denials. Some said they never heard of her before, and re-examination brought from Miss Bentley the statement that she never made direct contact with some of those named, but only took information attributed to them. Those who confirmed dealings with her asserted they never gave her any improper information.

Obviously the key to the riddle of the authenticity of this story is in the files of the FBI. If the congressional committees really want to know about it, they will get officials of that bureau to testify before them.

On all sides the question has been asked:

Why did the government permit alleged foreign agents to remain in its employ? That question, too, can best be answered by the FBI. In America an accusation is not a conviction, and unless confirmed by investigation is not properly a bar to public service. But the American people want the truth.

Cost Of Berlin Food

It is costing United States taxpayers $23,000 a day to fly food and other supplies to Berlin, according to an Air Force estimate which includes only actual flight costs. This is roughly the amount added to our daily occupation costs by the blockade of Berlin, since supplies normally would be moved by train and barge at little or no cost to the United States.

The food itself costs another $200,000 a day for the British and American sectors of Berlin. The United States is buying the food for the British sector, although the British are providing their own air transportation. Thus the cost to us of the airlift for Berlin supplies, while high enough to be irritating, is not over-burdening, if the Air Force figure is at all accurate. It amounts to not much more than a tenth of our bill for the food itself.

There is more cause for worry over the practical aspect. The air transport system has not yet been built up to capacity sufficient to meet summer needs. When greater quantities of coal are needed in winter, the air-borne supply will fall far short. The cost of fully meeting needs might then become inordinate.

The only satisfactory solution lies in lifting of the blockade.

Diet and Health Ideas About Goiter Often Confusing

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

PEOPLE are often confused about goiter because they think of it as a single, definite disease. The word itself simply means an enlargement of the thyroid gland but, as a matter of fact, there are several kinds of these enlargements, some much more serious than others, and all demanding different management.

It is well known that iodine is used in the treatment of goiter but most people do not realize that it is also helpful in deciding just which type of goiter is present.

Normal Thyroid

Now iodine is used by the normal thyroid in making the secretion which this gland forms. But, when iodine is given, the normal gland reacts to it very differently from one which is diseased. For this reason it is important in diagnosis. During the first few hours of the administration of the iodine, the normal gland takes up the iodine, but very little of it is stored. Of course, the thyroid gland needs a small amount of iodine regularly in order that it may form its secretion.

In simple goiter, in which the only abnormal condition present is the enlargement of the thyroid gland, the iodine is taken up and retained during the first 24 hours it is administered. When, in addition, there are toxic symptoms, such as rapid heart-beat, increased sweating, nervousness, and irritability, the thyroid takes up the iodine rapidly during the first four hours it is given and then discharges it into the blood.

Treatment of Goiter
Recently, radioactive iodine has been employed in the treatment of toxic goiter. The radioactive iodine is taken up by the thyroid gland and, following its use, the goiter diminishes in size. However, this preparation has not as yet been employed for a long enough period to know its exact effect or the ultimate results of its use. It has been found effective in treating cancers of the thyroid gland in those cases in which cancer cells have been carried by the blood from the thyroid gland to other parts of the body.

Other preparations useful in toxic goiter are thiouracil and propylthiouracil. These drugs also reduce the activity of the thyroid gland and lessen the symptoms of the toxic goiter. In some cases, they will even bring about a cure. However, in most instances, they are employed only to reduce the severity of the symptoms and to allow building up of the patient so that operation for the removal of the thyroid gland may be undertaken with safety.

When enlargement of the thyroid gland occurs, immediate examination by a physician is important to determine the cause of the enlargement; then the most effective treatment can be carried out.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

E. H.: How can celiac be cured?
Answer: Celiac usually does not occur after the third or fourth month and is due to overfeeding, underfeeding, or feeding of the wrong kind of food. The diet of the child should be carefully adjusted. During an attack, a small injection of two ounces of water should be given into the lower opening of the bowel and heat applied to the abdomen.

Feminine Beauty Up To Congress By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK, —(AP)—Does Congress want the American woman to stay beautiful?

Well, if it does, it had better start forking out some cash.

This is the advice of Mrs. Veronica Dengel, a beauty engineer, who says the high cost of keeping beautiful is pricing many women right out of the market.

"Beauty is so important," she said, "that there should be national beauty clinics subsidized by federal funds which would bring beauty within the reach of every woman."

Mrs. Dengel thinks women have every bit as much right to a chunk of the national budget as farmers.

"There are government subsidies for almost every type of education except for the all-important one of enabling American women to learn how to be and remain a race of beautiful, healthy creatures. And this is a vital necessity to preserve marriages in the face of today's alarming divorce rate."

Mrs. Dengel has been campaigning for some time for equal rights at the drugstore counter.

"Congress should repeal the 20 percent tax on cosmetics," she said, "because lipstick, powder and cream are as essential to a woman as shaving cream is to a man, but the man doesn't pay a luxury tax on his whisker soap."

Convinced that American women are the most beautiful in the world, Mrs. Dengel regards this as "one of the dividends of democracy."

"As long as we have beautiful women," she said, "our men would slaughter any foreign 'ism.'"

So she puts it up to Congress to save America by saving its womanly beauty.

Mrs. Dengel's views were given in a long telegram in which she disagreed with this department's recent muted protests against "the great American female face."

"There are five basic types of faces," she said.

"These are Alexis Smith, executive; Joan Crawford, dramatic; Ingrid Bergman, wholesome; Shirley Temple, feminine; and Irene Dunne, conservative."

So there are five kinds of faces. I wouldn't quarrel with a lady beauty expert even if she said there were 25 kinds. My only contention, is that in public they tend too often to merge into an iceberg profile that cloaks their real personalities.

And Mark, a well known Manhattan hair stylist, agrees.

"No wonder foreigners think all American women look alike," he said. "It's because they all strive for the same facial outlines."

"Once upon a time someone told them the perfect type of face was the oval, and they've been spending millions in beauty parlors since, getting their hair primped in any way that would balance to form an oval-like appearance."

Mark—for some reason hair stylists never have last names—thinks women could eliminate this sameness by concentrating upon their own facial type.

"There is beauty in each one," he insists, "and no reason why the oval should be constantly applied. The American woman should snap out of her rut and point up her own facial outline with its individualistic enchantment."

And with this I leave, I hope forever, the problem of "the great American female face" to Mark, Mrs. Dengel, Congress, and the woman who wears one. Beauty may be only skin-deep, but it's too deep for me.

duces his own basic factory price to all his customers. It might make the difference between a profitable and a losing business, resulting in the producer's solvency or bankruptcy...."

Of course, that would not worry the theoreticians, not until the steel companies decided to follow the letter of their ruling which upset them no end.

In the Morton Salt case, the FTC won another victory in the supreme court which will cost the housewife considerable money. Here the court decided, following the FTC, that "carload discounts" may not be given; that is, that the manufacturer may not pass on to the consumer reduced costs of operations.

Justice Jackson and Frankfurter dissented from this opinion, Jackson saying:

"The court uses overtones of hostility to all quantities of discounts, which I do not find in the act, but they are translated into a rule which is fatal to any discount the commission sees fit to attack...The law of this case, in a nutshell, is that no quantity discount is valid if the commission chooses to say it is not. That is not the law which Congress enacted and which this court has uniformly stated until today...."

Another matter, the rigid conduct case, comes into this discussion, but I have no room for it here. I need only make the point that these decisions involve increased costs at a time of high prices, that they confuse business processes, that they disorganize the normal relations between buyer and seller and that they accomplish nothing of benefit to anyone. But they do make the administrative lawyers happy because their theories are upheld by the supreme court.

Here the court decided, following the FTC, that "carload discounts" may not be given; that is, that the manufacturer may not pass on to the consumer reduced costs of operations.

Justice Jackson and Frankfurter dissented from this opinion, Jackson saying:

"The court uses overtones of hostility to all quantities of discounts, which I do not find in the act, but they are translated into a rule which is fatal to any discount the commission sees fit to attack...The law of this case, in a nutshell, is that no quantity discount is valid if the commission chooses to say it is not. That is not the law which Congress enacted and which this court has uniformly stated until today...."

Another matter, the rigid conduct case, comes into this discussion, but I have no room for it here. I need only make the point that these decisions involve increased costs at a time of high prices, that they confuse business processes, that they disorganize the normal relations between buyer and seller and that they accomplish nothing of benefit to anyone. But they do make the administrative lawyers happy because their theories are upheld by the supreme court.

Meat Sets Pace for Price Rises

(By the Associated Press)

Retail food prices backed and pulled this week across the nation. Pulling them upward were higher livestock prices, and increases in milk quotations in some areas. But acting as brakes were increasing customer refusal to pay the record meat prices, and the increased supplies of fresh vegetables and fruits as more items came into season.

Grocers reported sales volume of fresh meats and some dairy products dropped, while larger quantities of fresh fruits and vegetables were sold. Dollar sales volume was only slightly above that of a year ago and was absorbed by the increased prices compared with last year.

Wholesalers reported that demand, except for meat, continued at a high level. Canned goods

Wonder Waif of Guadalcanal Now Growing up in Singapore

By MARGARET BOWES

SINGAPORE, Aug. 6—(AP)—The wonder waif of the Pacific is almost grown up now. She's 12 years old.

Patsy Li, the little Chinese girl who six years ago mysteriously turned up in the midst of the shooting on Guadalcanal, today is studying the three R's in a Singapore school.

But she hasn't forgotten her days with the U. S. Marines on Guadalcanal. She hasn't had a chance. Newspaper stories up and down the coast have kept the memory alive for her.

Little Patsy, like many a youngster her age, is limelight-conscious. But in her case what is usually a mere "stage" threat to become a serious personality problem, according to her guardian that's why there are to be no more interviews.

A lot of American Marines who were on Guadalcanal will remem-

Other Points Seek Workers

Northwest Ohio Now Wants 500 Persons

The Ohio State Employment Service today issued a call for more than 500 seasonal vegetable harvest hands urgently needed in the northwestern part of the state to help bring in the ripening tomato crop. Most of the openings are in the Bowling Green, Wauseon and Napoleon areas.

Starting within the next week or 10 days, such workers will be in demand in Washington C. H. to man the two canning plants here.

The Employment Service, a division of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, reports that the temporary jobs are open to vacationing students or anyone else physically qualified to do the work. Specific information on all openings may be secured at any one of the Bureau's ninety-one local offices throughout the state.

The tomato harvest will last through September to about October 1. When picked, the tomatoes will be placed in crates and hampers. In all cases—the employers stipulate—adequate housing will be provided. There is no limitation as to age and no previous experience is required.

In addition to the demand for seasonal workers, there are a number of year-around farm openings for both single men and couples, the Employment Service reports. Such jobs are available in Akron, Columbus, Newark, Port Clinton and Youngstown among other areas.

'The Best Is Yet To Come' To Be Launched with Beacon

RATED AT 200-MILLION CANDLEPOWER, throwing a beam 15 miles into the sky that can be seen for 25 miles, the world's greatest self-operating portable beacon unit will be on exhibition in front of the High School at dusk on the evening of Wednesday August 11, heralding the first presentation of 'The Best Is Yet To Come' in Washington, C. H.

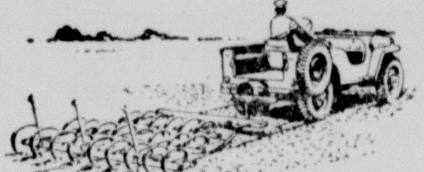

The glamor of Hollywood and its famed world premieres have been promised in full measure for Washington C. H., when the first edition of the stage revues, "The Best Is Yet To Come," is presented in the high school auditorium at 8 P. M. next Wednesday.

At dusk on the evening of the performance, a beacon, called the world's most powerful light of the kind, will herald the inauguration of the monthly entertainment series here. The huge light, described as "brighter than the moon," truck. It is called the world's greatest complete, self-operating portable unit. It cost $15,000.

Its owners say it uses more electric current than a city of 50,000 for its rated 200,000,000 candlepower light. The current is supplied by a generator built into the truck.

The mammoth light is to be on view from dusk until 11 P. M.

The huge beacon, the operators say, has played a part in many national events during the past year, being in demand for conventions, premieres and other celebrations from New York to California and Canada to the Gulf.

The big light is to be a prelude to the first presentation of "The Best Is Yet To Come" here when a nationally known "name band" and ten stage acts will be rolled into the two-hour show that its producers say "will be the talk of the community until the same day next month when a second edition will be presented."

Farmer Electrocuted

LONDON, Aug. 6—(AP)—Lonnie Steele, 48, died yesterday after suffering an electrical shock while repairing a milk cooler on his farm on the East Pike, one mile north of Route 40.

An important period in Italian literature began around 1230 when Sicilian poets gathered at the court of Emperor Frederick III. Included among them were Dante, Petrarch and Boccaccio.

"I have tried many reducing preparations but nothing ever helped me until I tried 'Renel' writes Mrs. Wright. 'Since I started taking Renel I have eaten as much as I wanted and anything I feel much better than I have in ten years. Before taking Renel my excess weight kept me tired out all of the time. I am so happy that I tried Renel because the other products that I have tried didn't help me at all. My druggist recommended Renel to me and I wouldn't be without it.' Renel is the original grapefruit juice recipe for taking off ugly fat. It's simple, go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Renel. Pour the contents into a pint bottle—add enough un-sweetened grapefruit juice to fill the bottle, take just two tablespoons twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves—il- reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles; just re- turn the empty bottle to the manufac- turer for your money back. You need never know a hungry moment while taking Renel, no starvation diet, no printed diet list to buy, no expensive vitamins to fortify you against weak- ness while going hungry, for you WON'T be hungry.

Former Resident Of County Dies

U. C. Thompson, 74, formerly a resident of Jeffersonville, died in his home in Bellefontaine Thurs- day morning. He had been in fail- ing health for two years.

A native of Jefferson Township,

Mr. Thompson had lived in Belle- fontaine for the past 15 years. When in Jeffersonville, he had op- erated a shoe shop on Main Street. He is survived by his daughter Mrs. Ray Lyn of Bellefontaine, two grandchildren and three great- grandchildren. Funeral services are being held in Bellefontaine at 10 A. M. Saturday and burial will be made in Fairview Cemetery around 2 P. M. Saturday.

Highland Ponders Dog Census Soon

Commissioners in Highland County are considering a dog cen- sus, it was revealed in a recent regular meeting of the commis- sioners.

It was pointed out that many surrounding counties dog censuses have been taken. It was believed that there are no unlicensed dogs in Highland County.

Nearly all Fayette County dogs are tagged according to Fayette County Auditor Ulric Acton, who explained that the dog warden, Otis Bonecutter, checks every year on all addresses where ap- plications for dog tags have not been made.

WSCS Members Hold Meeting At Gilmer House

Mrs. Martin Gilmer was hostess to the White Oak Grove WSCS at her home Wednesday afternoon, with 18 members and seven guests, present.

Mrs. Mae Page, president of the society, presided over the meeting which was opened with devotionals in charge of Mrs. A. E. Huntington, who used as her topic, "The Security Of A Church."

This was followed with prayer by Rev. A. E. Huntington, the group repeating the Lord's Prayer in unison and a poem "Lord Bless This House," by Mrs. Juanita Knudler.

Mrs. Nora Theobald, secretary-treasurer, gave the usual reports which were accepted.

Miss Maxine Gilmer was welcomed into the society as a new member. The members reported 31 cards, 23 calls and seven bouquets sent to persons in the community who are ill.

The meeting was closed with the repeating of the usual benediction.

During the social hour, Mrs. Lizzie Eakins conducted two clever contests, and prizes in these were awarded Mrs. Lora Wolfe and Mrs. Bessie Weaver.

A tempting refreshment course was served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Miss Maxine Gilmer.

Miss Ruth Bandy Is Honored At Birthday Party

Mrs. Robert Palmer and Miss Virginia Bandy entertained with a party at the home of Mrs. Palmer Wednesday evening, honoring their sister, Miss Ruth Bandy, on her 16th birthday anniversary, which was arranged as a complete surprise to her.

The hostesses provided games and informal dancing was enjoyed throughout the evening to popular music on recordings.

The lovely gifts were presented and graciously responded to, and the group gathered around a large decorated birthday cake in the center of the lace cloth covered dining room table, for the blowing out of the tapers and the singing of "Happy Birthday."

Later a tempting dessert course was served to complete the pleasant event. Mrs. Lena Bandy, mother of the hostesses and Mrs. George Sheley assisted throughout the evening.

Those included were: Misses Barbara West, Barbara Sue Willis, Marilyn Van Voorhis, Marilyn Bishop, Nancy Boylan, Roseann Armbrust, Mary Sue Belles, Rebecca Armbrust, Lois Cherryholmes, Betty Baker, Patty Eckle, Joyce Crone, Ann Grillo, Joan Halliday, Barbara Manahan, Judy Rost, Ann McFadden, Dorothy Pyle, Sue Paul, Robin Newhouse, Delores Melvin and Dixie DeWeese.

Annual Picnic Of Garden Club

The Washington Garden Club members entertained the members of the Twin Oaks Garden Club, with a picnic, on Wednesday in the Rose Avenue School Building owing to the weather instead of the Fairgrounds Roadside Park which had been planned.

Fried chicken and the usual accompanying delicacies were served from the long table buffet style.

During the open meeting following, two new members Mrs. William A. Armbrust, and Mrs. Frank Blade Sr. were welcomed into the Washington Club.

Games were provided as entertainment for the remainder of the evening and prizes were awarded to several of the members and guests.

The next regular monthly meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Edgar Matthews.

Voice Pupils Will Present Recital Sunday

Miss Ellen Buchanan will present three of her pupils in a voice recital on Sunday afternoon at four o'clock in the Grace Methodist Church Sunday School room. Those appearing on the program will be Mrs. June Fennig, Miss Patricia Long and Miss Rebecca Armbrust.

Madison Mills WSCS Meeting

Mrs. Pauline Khisley extended the hospitality of her home to the members of the Madison Mills W. S. C. S. for the regular monthly session.

The president, Mrs. Mabel King opened the meeting with the hymn "He Leadeth Me," sung in unison.

Mrs. Freda King was leader of the devotional period using as her topic "Christ The On-going Companion of Our Ways," the hymn "Oh Master Let Me Walk With Thee," sung by the group, was followed with Scripture reading from the 13th Chapter of St. Luke, by Mrs. King who also read articles on Puerto Rico, and the poem "Puerto Rica At Sunset," and closed this period with prayer.

Roll call was responded to by twenty members and one guest, Mrs. Herschel Pendleton.

Mrs. Ethel Wilson gave a report on the social events the society had attended at Bloomingburg when they were guests of the W. S. C. S. there recently.

Plans were also made by the members to serve luncheon to workmen who are repairing the church.

Mrs. Ethel Wilson and Mrs. Betsey Le Beau, were in charge of the program and conducted two interesting contests.

Mrs. Kneisley was assisted in the serving of a delicious refreshment course by Mrs. Louella Campbell, during the social hour. Mrs. Sadie Le Beau will be the September hostess for the meeting.

Don't Worry Over Johnny's IQ Latest Advice of Educators

BY DAVID TAYLOR MARKE

Don't worry too much about your child's IQ. He may be a mental giant one day and turn out to be a normal, or even a sub-normal child, a week later.

It depends upon emotional factors, the kind of test taken, who gives the test and who interprets the results, says Sister Mary Corde Loring.

Sister Mary Corde of the faculty of Maryknoll Teachers College, Ossining, N. Y., asks in an article written for The Catholic School Journal:

"What Good Is an I. Q.?" Her answer: "Not much good!"

An I. Q., short for Intelligence Quotient, is based on a series of mental tests and is supposed to show how intelligent a child is.

But, says Sister Mary Corde, unless the examinations are of the best, the tests given by qualified personnel, and the results interpreted by experienced teachers, "it is easy to see what grave injustice can be done to children."

It is common knowledge, she says, "that obtained I. Q.'s vary from day to day and from year to year. . . . Case histories show that children's obtained I. Q.'s may vary as much as 20 points due to emotional factors."

In School X, points out Sister Mary Corde, every child has been given a group mental test. It was not one of the best available, but the teacher though the results infallible. They were the first I. Q.'s she had had for her class.

What she didn't know was that Johnny's subnormal score was due to the fact that he was upset because his mother had not been home to get his breakfast.

"I have known a child to score an I. Q. of 78 due to retarded reading and to raise it to 97 after six months' remedial instruction," says Sister Mary Corde.

However, she concludes, "we must not lose faith completely in our intelligence scales. Fallible as they are, they are all we have."

Conceited parents are perhaps the greatest danger to the gifted child, says Rhea K. Boardman and Gertrude Hildreth in the magazine Understanding the Child.

Such parents "forget all about a child's right to be a child and proceed instead to the intensive artificial cultivation of the child's gifts. . . . Too often the gifted may vary as much as 20 points due to emotional factors."

In School X, points out Sister

A child may be "gifted" and yet not be a high I. Q. As used by the U. S. Office of Education, a "gifted child" may be one with exceptionally high intellectual capacity or one who is markedly superior in some specific direction—as in art, music, mechanics or social leadership. Yet, says the American Association for Gifted Children, there are all-too-numerous cases of gifted children whose capabilities are not understood and who become anti-social or even misuse their talents.

Conceited parents are perhaps the greatest danger to the gifted child, says Rhea K. Boardman and Gertrude Hildreth in the magazine Understanding the Child.

Such parents "forget all about a child's right to be a child and proceed instead to the intensive artificial cultivation of the child's gifts. . . . Too often the gifted

Poland China Breeders Form Organization

Four Counties Are Represented And Sale Is Planned

Poland China breeders from four counties met at the home of Don J. Sollars, on the White Oak Road north of Bloomingburg and formed a four-county association, after which plans were made for the first combination sale of a series planned in promoting the breed in this area.

Eleven breeders were present, and they organized by electing Dane Willis, of Bainbridge, president, John Houseman, Leesburg, vice-president, and Don J. Sollars secretary-treasurer.

Decision was made to hold the first sale, open to all breeders in the four counties—Fayette, Highland, Clinton and Ross, at the Fair Grounds here, on October 23, starting immediately after noon, with about 45 head of choice animals to be consigned to the initial sale of the newly formed association.

General plans for promoting the breed in the four counties were discussed at some length, and after decided upon the sale date, it was decided to have Joe Franks, Morton, Ill., as auctioneer and L. C. Skelton, Kokomo, Ind., as field man.

Breeders who were present when the organization was formed were: C. G. Parrett, Bloomingburg; Preston Dray, New Holland; Don J. Sollars, Bloomingburg; Ernest West, Bainbridge; Dane Willis, Bainbridge; J. C. Kibler, Leesburg Road; John Houseman, Leesburg; Frank Houseman, Leesburg; H. C. Roads, and Sons Bainbridge, R. D.; Thomas Parrett, Bloomingburg and Joe Stuckey, Wilmington.

Auto Thief Held To the Grand Jury

Warren G. Butts, 22, Wilmington, N. Owing to the critical illness of Mrs. Emma Embrey who was to direct this school, Rev. Tucker will be the director. A full course in several branches of religious work will be offered. All boys and girls are urged to attend. The time is from 2:00 until 4:00 each afternoon.

Ancient Cities Found Under Sea

MILAN, Italy, Aug. 6—(AP)—Il Corriere Della Sera, a Milan newspaper, said today a Sicilian diver had reported the discovery of three submerged cities near Sicily which he estimated to date from 4,000 to 5,000 B. C.

Dr. Bernardo Brea, director of the Municipal Museum at Syracuse and regarded as Sicily's leading archeologist, said a find of the proportions described was extremely unlikely, although the diver may have found remains of prehistoric civilizations.

Alleged Thieves Are Held to Court

John Eubanks, Russell Williams and Marion Stanforth, all of Highland County, were held to the grand jury on charges of theft of four hogs from Glenn Smith farm near Samanthia, when they were arraigned before Justice W. G. Hogsett, in Hillsboro. They were placed under $1,000 each.

Eubanks and Stanforth pleaded innocent and Williams entered a guilty plea. The stolen hogs were recovered from the Eubanks farm, and Stanforth's car, bearing evidence of having been used to haul hogs, was confiscated as evidence.

Eubanks is known to the authorities in this county.

Polio Spreading In More Than Half of States

Disease in 3 States Reported To Be of Epidemic Proportion

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6—(AP)—Infantile paralysis is spreading in more than half the states of the nation, with North Carolina, Texas and California suffering epidemics.

The public health service issued a report yesterday which showed that figures for the week ending July 31, for the month of July and for the year up to the end of last month all topped the scores for 1946—second worst polio year in history.

Here are the statistics: During the week ending July 31, 1,215 new cases were reported (911 for the same week of 1946). July's total hit 3,425 (3,366 in 1946) and the total for the year up to July 31 was 5,798 (5,450 in 1946).

The figure for the last week of July compares with 982 for the previous week and 169 for the final week of July, 1947.

The three states hit by epidemics accounted for 43 percent of last week's increase. The same three had 47 percent of the nation's new polio cases the week before, and 60 percent during July's second week.

"There is apparently no indication of the extension of the epidemic area in North Carolina," the report said. But it added that "a few scattering cases are being reported in counties outside the epidemic area. Up to July 31, cases have been reported in 83 of the state's 100 counties."

Some cases also are turning up outside the epidemic area of Texas, the report said.

"In California, the largest number of cases is being reported in the southern part of the state, which is the most populous."

Rhode Island is the only state which has reported no polio cases all year. In all New England, only 45 cases have turned up. Nevada is another state relatively free of the disease.

'Big Name' Band Coming Here For Air Forces Dance Sept. 18

One of the country's "big name" bands is coming to Washington, C. H., as one of the features of an elaborate National Air Force Day program being arranged by the Washington, C. H. Squadron of the National Air Force Association.

Sonny Dunham, called the nation's foremost trombone and trumpet stylist, has been booked for Sept. 18 to play for a dance in the new Rollerhaven, now nearing completion on the CCC Highway about a mile west of the city.

Only recently Dunham was introduced over the radio by Tommy Dorsey as the "handsome band leader."

Plans for the celebration were announced by Wilbur Snapp and Victor Smith of the Air Force Squadron. They said they could not be quoted on the price of the band, but added the fee will run into four figures.

The Silver Cyclones, described as a "sensational" and "dazzling" skating team are to put on a floor show during the intermission, the spokesmen said.

It was possible to book Sonny Dunham, they explained, because the band is now making a coast-to-coast tour of one-night stands. Its reputation, and that of its leader, has been built up through appearance in some of the swankiest night clubs, theaters and hotels dining rooms in the country.

The band is made up of 17 pieces, including the vocalist, it was said.

The National Air Force Day program is being arranged here for two primary purposes, it was said: to focus attention on air power as a national defense measure and to raise funds for the squadron here, which is secondary.

The squadron spokesmen said plans for other features of the observance are being worked out and that if they are successful, one of them will be "the biggest thing ever held in Washington, C. H."

Many mosses still have names given them by the Greek botanist Dioscorides and the Roman naturalist Gaius Plinius.

Law Enforcement For Circleville

A meeting has been called by Circleville city council for August 13, to take up the matter of bringing about better law enforcement in the town, where there apparently has been a laxity in enforcing some of the laws.

Top Circleville officials, including Police Chief William F. McCrady, will attend the session, and it is expected that definite orders will be issued to the chief to enforce more of the laws to the letter, including traffic laws.

The meeting was called after Dr. Edwin L. Montgomery made a lengthy appeal to his fellow solons to take some action on speeding violations in the city.

"If the police don't back us up on the laws we are nothing but a bunch of important, ordinance passers," said Montgomery during his request for some action.

Aditorial Number 12 Of A Series

Please neighbors, don't let us down!

Last call! Hear ye... hear ye... friends, enemies, neighbors and tourists.

'The Best Is Yet To Come' is the name of a big two-hour Hollywood stage revue. It includes a grand name-band on the stage, 12 sensational Broadway, Chicago and West Coast acts and one outstanding local amateur act. It will be here but one night only Wed. Aug. 11th and will be presented at Washington High School under the local sponsorship of the Washington Park Association.

Tickets are $1.25 including any and all taxes, local, state and federal. There are no reserved seats for this first presentation. But if you have a ticket we positively will guarantee you a seat--because the auditorium simply will not be oversold.

Now... listen closely.

There are a few ducats left. They are on sale at The Downtown Drug Store. Why haven't you bought one already? Why? Profits from 'The Best Is Yet To Come' monthly series of Hollywood two-hour stage productions are certainly going to be used for a worthy cause here. We've already told you that all profits will go toward building a swimming pool. That certainly is a worthy cause--isn't it? Don't you feel that you should help it?

But honestly, neighbors, you will find this a most 'painless' way to contribute. These shows are the finest two-hour stage revues in America's history. They open like lightning... move like a whirlwind... and keep you simply 'numb' with excitement for two solid hours. You hear beautiful music--the very best--and you see the greatest perfectly timed, and beautifully produced shows. There has never been anything like them before. Actually, there hasn't!

It's an all-new idea in entertainment, and you'll enjoy every second of it. In fact, the two-hours will be so entertaining it will seem like 30 minutes. That was one thing the committee commented about when we first went to see an Edition of 'The Best Is Yet To Come' several months ago. And, we've been seeing the new Editions each month since and we're telling you they're great.

But... what we should be telling you is--get your tickets! We don't want you to stay at home or do anything else Wed. Nite Aug. 11th. You'll be sorry--oh, so sorry... if you miss this great show.

Won't you support our project... won't you invest $1.25 in a ticket for a perfectly grand two-hours of happiness... won't you accept our guarantee to refund the entire purchase-price of your ticket in full if you don't enjoy yourself... won't you stop in at Downtown Drug Store tonight or first-thing tomorrow and get tickets for your family. Please do! We want every seat full--a packed house--to welcome 'The Best Is Yet To Come' show to good ole Washington, C. H.

Ashville's Reds To Play Eagles Here on Sunday

Ashville's Reds, the defending champions of the SCO League, are coming to Washington C. H. Sunday afternoon to meet the Eagles for the last time this year at Wilson Field.

In the two previous games, the Reds nosed out the Washington C. H. boys by a single run both times. Against a backdrop of such hard-fought games, the Eagles management today is preparing to handle one of the biggest crowds of the season.

And, certainly no fan-detrant was last Sunday's exciting game here in which Chillicothe's Meads came up with a 3-run rally at the end to break and tie and take the lead which they held against a valiant eighth inning 2-run surge by the Eagles.

Ross Sprinkle, the Eagle right field who stamped himself as something of a hurler with a neat 7-hit relief job last Sunday, conceivably could turn up on the mound again unexpectedly. He was charged with the defeat by the Meads, but he showed that he could be counted on in an emergency.

The slugging that the Eagles have unlimbered in recent games is developing into a powerful magnet and is given part of the credit for the increasing attendance. The home runs slammed by Prather and Alger last Sunday are examples. Prather drilled one over the left-center fence more than 400 feet from the plate and Alger clouted one into it at about the same spot.

Clarence McGinnis, the Eagle left fielder who manages the Sachs Auto Parts, to gave the crowd a laugh with the oddity of the season. He drove a hit into a bush in right field where the ball wedged in the work of a branch. It looked like a snowball among the green foliage.

Sunday's game here is to start at 2:30 P. M.

Second Hole-in-One Is Made By Ronnie Cornwell On No. 5

Ronnie Cornwell, hard hitting former golf champion of the Country Club, today had a second hole-in-one to his credit.

Playing with O. D. Farquhar, Kenneth Harley and Gene Stanforth Thursday afternoon, Ronnie lifted a high shot off the No. 5 tee. The ball plunked down about six inches short and to the left of the flag, took one short bounce forward and to the right and plopped into the cup. He used a No. 5 iron for the shot. The hole is 173 yards long.

Tony Capuana, the club pro, theorized the ball had a slight hook that made it bounce slightly to the right when it hit. The greens were soft after the previous day's rains, he said in explaining that kept the ball from bouncing high and running. There was a deep dent in the velvet-like green where the ball hit.

Ronnie got his other hole-in-one not long before he went into the army. It was on the same hole, but instead of dropping into the cup on the first short bounce, it landed on a bee-line into the hole. Tony was in the foursome playing with him at the time.

This is the first year in Tony's recollection that two holes-in-one have been made here in the same season.

Bob McDonald surk his tee shot on the 147-yard No. 3 hole several weeks ago. He used a No. 6 iron. The ball landed several feet from the flag and rolled into the cup.

Six Legion Juniors Still in Title Race

COLUMBUS, Aug. 6—(AP)—Mansfield and Cincinnati, only undefeated teams left in the double-elimination American Legion junior baseball tournament, clash today on an Ohio State University diamond.

Four other teams—Lima, Lancaster, Youngstown and Sugar Creek—are still in the running, although all have been defeated once.

Other games this morning matched Lima with Youngstown and Lancaster with Sugar Creek. After morning games the four teams left again in the afternoon. If the Mansfield-Cincinnati winner also triumphs in the afternoon, only a title game will be necessary Saturday. Otherwise, there will be a game Saturday morning to eliminate one more team before the finale.

Cuyahoga Falls was eliminated by Youngstown yesterday, 1-0; Cincinnati smashed out 21 hits in blasting Lima, 15-0, and Mansfield scored four times in the fifth inning to clinch a 7-3 decision over Lancaster.

Utah Youth After Crown

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 6—(AP)—Ernie Schneider, Jr., 18-year-old Ogden, Utah, youngster was one of the 16 remaining contestants today in the battle for the national junior amateur golf championship. Ernie hoped to swing through two more rounds of match play to reach the semi-finals before tonightfall.

Should defeat come it wouldn't shatter the youngster's dream of becoming a golf professional like his dad and two uncles. Ernie has been playing golf since he was a little kid and now holds the Utah junior championship.

Of more immediate concern to Ernie was his third round match with Dick Estey, the Portland, Ore., boy who surprised Marvin Worsham of Washington 2 up in the second round. The winner will meet either Bill Leigh of Lakeland, Fla., or Bill Maxwell of Abilene, Tex., in an afternoon fourth round engagement.

Olympic Stars Are the Women

Americans in Front But Blow Honors

By TED SMITS

OLMPIC STADIUM, Wembley, England, Aug. 6—(AP)— Unlike Olympic games of the past, no single dominant hero is emerging in 1948—and a women's name will lead all the rest.

When Mal Whitfield finished third in the 400 meter run, the last man with a chance to become a double winner in track lost out.

So it is a woman's Olympics—Mrs. Fannie Blankers-Koen and Micheline Ostermeyer in track already have two gold medals and can win more, and Mrs. Victoria Draves and Karen Harup in swimming are on the way.

The London games will have no man's name to add to the lustrous list that includes Jessie Owens in 1936, Eddie Tolan in 1932, Percy Williams in 1928, and Paavo Nurmi in 1924.

The only man who has come close to two single victories—excluding the relays—is Arthur Wint of Jamaica, who was close second to Whitfield of the United States in the 800, and who won the 400 in 46.2, upsetting not only Whitfield but favored Herb McKenzie of Jamaica as well.

Rowing Victories

Yesterday's lack of American track winners was compensated for by smashing victories by five American shells in the Thames rowing and Dr. Sammy Lee's championship in high diving.

Both head U. S. Coach Dean Cromwell and Whitfield himself were bitterly disappointed in the outcome of the 400 meters.

"I don't know what happened to me," said Whitfield. "I guess I must have been too sure of winning."

Said Cromwell: "The last four men in the 400 ran a ridiculous race."

The last four were Whitfield, timed in 46.9, Dave Bolen of Colorado 47.2, Morrie Curotta of Australia 47.9, and George Guida of Villanova 50.2.

"They just didn't run," Cromwell went on. "All three were perfectly fresh at the end of the race."

Attention on Women

Now that no man is coming out a double champion, the attention focuses on the women.

Mrs. Blankers-Koen, a 30-year-old Dutch housewife and mother of two, already has won the 100 meters and 80 meter hurdles and is on her way to one and possibly two more championships.

Mile, Ostermeyer of France, slender and pretty, is the discus and shot champion.

In swimming pretty, quiet Mrs. Draves has won the spring board diving and today competes in the high tower, her specialty.

Mrs. Harup, a powerful Dane, has won the backstroke in record time, and is aiming at the women's 400 meter free style.

Reds Lose to Braves But Make Hits Count

By JOE REICHLER

(By the Associated Press)

The Cincinnati Reds, who finally fell prey to Boston's vaunted power, arrived in Brooklyn for an under-the-lights opener of a three-game series with the Dodgers.

Victors over the league-leading Braves on three successive nights, the Reds collected four hits last night to Boston's 10 and that told the story as they lost 6-4.

The rhinelanders were deadlocked 4-4 with two out in the eighth inning when the roof fell in. Tommy Holmes singled and moved over to third on Alvin Dark's double. Earl Torgeson then lined a triple down the left field line, plating the deciding markers.

Despite their weak hitting, the Reds got lots of mileage on four singles, three of which figured in the scoring.

Danny Litwhiler, a former Brave, connected for his 12th homer of the season in the fourth.

The visitors nicked starter Warren Spahn for three markers in the sixth on a double by Frank Baumholtz, Claude Corbitt's walk and a triple by Johnny Wyrostek, the latter coming home on an outfield fly.

Rookie Bob Hogue, Spahn's successor, held the Reds scoreless in the United States is making a sensational sweep, no one man is winning more than one event.

Race for Championship

Probably in the end the title of Olympic heroine will rest between Mrs. Blankers-Koen and Mile. Ostermeyer, and the high jump Saturday in which both are entered may decide it.

With the games half over—they end Aug. 14—the United States has riveted down another great triumph in men's track. America has won eight championships out of 18 contested, with possibly three more victories to come.

Sweden is second with three, while seven other nations have one each—Belgium, Finland, Czechoslovakia, Italy, Australia, Hungary, and Jamaica.

In the unofficial team standings based on 10-5-4-3-2-1 for the six places, the United States started the seventh day leading with 164, followed by Sweden 63, Finland 29, Australia and Jamaica 24 each, France 18½, Norway 17½, Italy 16, Hungary 16, and Czechoslovakia 15.

Hutchison in a hurling duel, although he needed help from Joe Page in the ninth. Page came in after Dick Wakefield tripled with one out and retired two pinch hitters in a row to leave Wakefield stranded. Billy Johnson drove in one Yankee run with a double and George Starnweiss did the same.

The Red Sox saw an early six-run lead go out of the window, then bounced back to tally one in the eighth to beat the Browns. Vern Stephens singled home Johnny Pesky with the winning run.

Four scheduled games in the National League were rained out.

Two Games Slated for Friday Night

With the sun shining brightly Friday morning, the chances of playing the double softball feature in the evening on Wilson Field were as bright as all outdoors.

The Lawson Legionnaires and Armbrusts are to take the field for the curtain raiser at 7:30 P. M. and the Hughey Legion post team will meet the Jamestown Merchants in the main event immediately afterward.

The second game is another of the customary Friday games with out-of-town teams. The Jamestowners come with a record of success in play around west-central Ohio.

Next week's big attraction Monday night when the American Knothole League All-Star game is the first attraction of the twin bill. The game was to have been played last Wednesday, but was rained out.

There will be no softball Wednesday night. The games originally scheduled for that day have been postponed to leave the evening free for the first episode of the "The Best Is Yet To Come" series of stage revues in the high school auditorium.

Clinton Plans $300,000 For New Coliseum

To Be Erected on Fair Grounds if Voters Approve

Plans for constructing a $300,000 Clinton County Coliseum on the Fair Grounds at Wilmington, have been announced, and will be submitted to the voters of Clinton County at the November election, with present indications that it will be approved.

A county wide organization is being formed to back the movement, and nine county-wide organizations will be asked to assist in the movement.

Tentative plans for the coliseum have been drawn by H. M. Garriott of Cincinnati, and call for a flexible interior which may be used for many purposes.

Garriott said the seating capacity of the proposed building would be between 3,000 and 4,000, with part of the seats of the type that could be rolled back against the wall to provide a center space of about 100 by 150 feet for exhibits, livestock shows and anything else. It is planned to have a removable wooden basketball court in sections similar to those used at the coliseum in Columbus and Dayton, and the floor of the building would be of concrete.

Dressing rooms, shower rooms and offices are provided on the second floor above the entrance and beneath the bleachers on one side. Toilet facilities at each end of the building could be kept open when the building was not in use if necessary.

Carl H. Shanks county superintendent of schools of Clinton County, said the most people ever to see a Clinton County Basketball Tournament was 2,000, and last year only 1,700 could be admitted. He estimated that a coliseum providing 4,000 seats could be filled for a county tournament, giving many people who have wanted to attend in the past but could not obtain tickets, an opportunity to go.

Harry Schultz, member of the Fair Board, explained that no site has been chosen for the coliseum, if approved. It has been the idea of the board that if approved a competent planner should be obtained to plan a relocation of the entire fairgrounds and then place this coliseum in the proper location for this longtime program.

Some of those present raised the question of whether the coliseum was big enough, and Garriott explained that 1,000 additional seats could be added by putting in balconies.

Building such a structure on the Fayette County Fairgrounds here could not be done unless the county held title to the grounds, which it does not inasmuch as the present Fair Board leases the grounds.

Greene's 4-H Calf Sale Results Given

Greene County 4-H's Calf Club sale, held Thursday at the Greene County Fair, averaged $37.56 per 100 pounds, compared with an average of $41.77 in Fayette County, County Agent W. W. Montgomery said Friday.

Seventeen 4-H Club steers were sold at the Greene County Fair, and the top was $49. At the Fayette County Fair last week 68 head sold and the top was $71.

Montgomery has announced that already there is deep interest in the 1949 steer club work in this county.

What the commission did was give its blessing to an examiner's report on a program broadcast by station WURL in nearby Arlington, Va., during most of last year.

Entitled "Dollars For Answers," the program consisted of the periodical reading of a question and the correct answer, followed immediately by a telephone call to a person selected at random from the telephone book.

The question was repeated. If the person called came up promptly with the answer, he got a cash prize ranging from $2 to $348. The range depended on how many previously called persons had been unable to supply an answer.

The hearing examiner, J. D. Bond, said this program violated that section of the communications act forbidding any broadcast advertisement or information "concerning any lottery, gift enterprise or similar scheme."

The commission, by saying it was in agreement with the examiner's findings, provided a hint of some of the standards it will apply in cracking down generally on prize programs.

The examiner said a lottery consists of three essential things: a prize, chance and consideration.

Strength of Company M to Be Increased

Possible Under New Edict to Boost Guard Enrollment

When steps were taken to reopen recruiting in the National Guard Thursday, it meant the addition of six or eight additional men to Company M, this city, and the new enlistments are expected in the near future, Captain Darrell Williams, commander of Company M, said Friday.

The National Guard officials in Washington D. C. made way for more enlisted men by lifting the ceiling on enrollment of commissioned and warrant officers and certain World War II veterans.

Maj. Gen. Kenneth F. Cramer, chief of the guard bureau, said the new order was aimed primarily at building up the officer strength of the expanded state units. But since officers no longer will be charged against the unit quota, he noted that this will enable more qualified men to enlist.

The guard had set a 341,000 top figure for both officers and men by June 30, 1949.

The national guard bureau also revised the state quotas for enlisted men. In Ohio it is: army, 11,171 and air, 1,783.

Present strength of Company M is 60, with full enrollment, but the new maximum enrollment will be upward of 70 men it is indicated.

The French language grew from the colloquial Latin of Caesar's legions combined with Celtic, Germanic and Gallic words. It was not called "French" until the 11th Century, when it took its name from the small kingdom of France around Paris and Orleans.

Hunted Groundhogs Man Faces Charges

I. J. Patrick, game protector for Fayette County, said Friday that Ernest E. Earwood, of Columbus, whom he said, had fired a shot which had killed a companion while they were hunting groundhogs a few days ago, had been taken into custody at London on a charge of hunting groundhogs out of season, and fined $25 and costs in Justice Harold C. Brown's court in London.

Patrick said Earwood was being held in the county jail at London in default of payment of the fine and costs, and that he had also filed a charge against Earwood of hunting on Sunday. He has not been arraigned on the second charge, Patrick stated.

Curtis Leroy Coon, 26, was shot through the head and instantly killed while Earwood and Coon were hunting groundhogs near West Jefferson, Patrick said.
